

Eva graduated in Public Relations at New Bulgarian University and currently is a student in the master's program "International Business Communications". She has worked in NGOs, was part of a start-up for 3D printing of anatomical models and has interned in various places since the beginning of her education in University, where she created the first student podcast of NBU.

In 2023, she met the team of the Bulgarian Center for Not-for-Profit Law during the NGO Summer School and joined as a training coordinator.
